Subject: Discontinuation of Recreation and Leisure Studies Three-Year Pass Degree

Please note that the three-year Bachelor of Recreation and Leisure Studies “pass” degree has been discontinued by the Recreation and Leisure Services Department at Brock University.

Brock will continue to offer the Recreation and Leisure Studies four-year degree option, allowing all students that maintain the required minimum average to continue into their fourth year.

This program change will not impact any current students enrolled in articulation agreements. Transfer credits will continue to be awarded based on the established articulation agreements in Recreation and Leisure Studies at Brock for current students, as well as any prospective applicants interested in the four-year degree option.

If you have any questions or concerns about this program discontinuation and associated articulation agreements, please contact Elizabeth Anderson, Transfer Pathways Specialist at eanderson2@brocku.ca

Sincerely,

Peter Tiidus
Dean, Applied Health Sciences
