Student Representative Council Mandate

The School of Community Development and Health, Student Representative Council (CD&H SRC) is a student advisory body comprised of students, faculty and administrators. The purpose of the CD&H SRC is to:

- Identify student ideas, issues and concerns,
- deliberate on raised items and share information, and
- make recommendations to various roles and/or committees within the School of CD&H or College.

The CD&H SRC is the 'student voice' (providing advice, guidance, and information) which will assist in the development of policies, procedures and action plans that promote the engagement of students in the academic and social life of the School of CD&H. The intent of the SRC is to create/improve a sense of belonging and connection for students within the School of CD&H.

5. Do not carry on side conversations – you can only attend one meeting at a time.
